Life support ventilators

Improve patient care through connectivity

ResMed, the world's largest provider of connected healthcare solutions for remote patient monitoring in the sleep market, is now introducing the same connectivity for Astral, its most advanced life support ventilator.

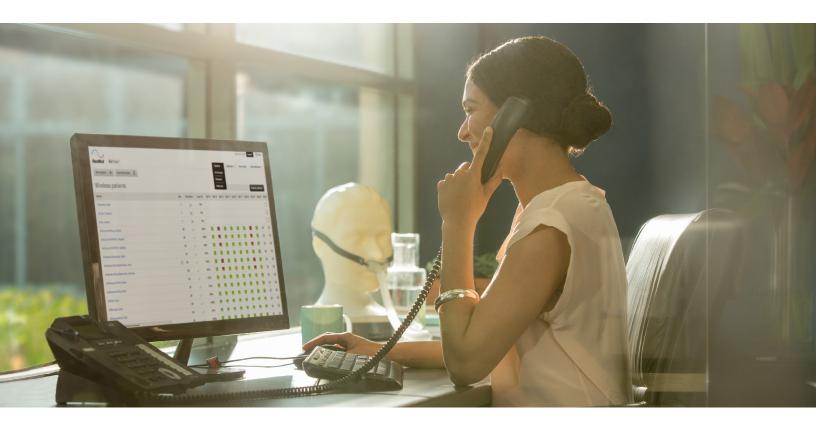

Astral's connectivity to AirView[™] gives physicians and home medical equipment providers (HMEs) access to key patient data in the cloud, enabling efficient collaboration and coordinated patient care:

- Simplified workflows for physicians, HMEs and payors
- Daily access to key ventilation parameters, such as usage, AHI, tidal volume, minute ventilation and respiratory rate
- Allows for early patient intervention before a potential problem or hospitalization occurs

"We see this as a huge benefit when starting a new patient on therapy – this will give us early visibility to compliance and potential therapy issues. It will allow us to contact the patient immediately vs. having to wait until our scheduled visit or call."

CHRIS MASEK, RRT MECHANICAL VENTILATOR COORDINATOR KUBAT PHARMACY "The new Astral in AirView connectivity is excellent for triaging on the fly – the daily data access is the most exciting for clinical care providers."

CHRIS TRAINOR, RT CLINICAL MANAGER, RELIABLE RESPIRATORY
