Download Home Sleep Test Data

Description:

Once the HST device is returned to your location, it is time to download the data.

To download home sleep test device data:

1. From the Diagnostic patients screen, click Device download.

2. Connect a compatible HST device into your computer with a USB cable and click Continue. AirView detects the device and automatically looks for an active patient with matching serial number. If no patient is found, you can search for a patient or create a new patient.

3. If the correct patient record is displayed, click Download. Ensure the correct patient has been selected, as this action cannot be undone. The device download starts automatically and a confirmation message is displayed.

4. If the wrong patient record is displayed, click Search active patients.

   Note: If the device is already assigned to another patient outside of your organization, you will not be able to reassign the device. Contact your local technical services team for assistance.
